

Product Development

Reports To: Product Development Manager

Location: Kilsyth

ABOUT US

Rae-Line is one of the largest commercial upholstery and sports and safety padding companies in Australia. We supply some of the biggest names in the automotive, heavy transport and sports padding.

SUMMARY:

This position is full time and requires becoming a part of a team who are responsible for a variety of product development activities.

To be considered for this role you will need the following skill set:

- Product development and design.
- Work Instruction development.
- Investigation of new development techniques.
- Ensures product quality. Establishes and manages systems for "right first time"
- Researches new tools and technology for design and development.
- Quoting/Estimating.
- Experience in SolidWorks

EDUCATION AND/OR EXPERIENCE

The requirements listed below are representative of the knowledge, skill and/or ability required.

- Ability to facilitate change process.
- History of involvement in successfully completing product development projects.
- Experience in managing design history files.
- Understanding and/or experience with common manufacturing methods and ability to interface with internal and external manufacturing organisations.
- Proven track record of taking a project from design to manufacturing.

SYSTEM TECHNOLOGY SKILLS

Experience in SolidWorks. Candidate must have working knowledge of Microsoft Word, Excel, Outlook and Internet applications.

Apply today to make the most of this excellent opportunity.